

Penny Tale

Sucked In

Saturday, 15 October 2008

On numerous occasions the Penny Angels have delivered a penny immediately after I have shared the PennyFinding story with someone. This was the case here.

We were spending the day with friends at a cabin in the local mountains. I was not planning on leaving the house and wondering how I was going to find the day's penny. I shared the PennyFinding story and my concerns with my friend. We ladies stayed back at the cabin while the two men went out at the hardware store. The vacuum cleaner was not working correctly, so I took it apart to change the belt. There was a penny stuck deep in the fuzz in a remote corner behind the pick up bar! Amazing that it could stay lodged in there - probably for years.

Lesson: SHARE the story with others.
